PRESS RELEASE

Leipzig Event Highlights 2024

(18 January 2024) A recent survey by the European Commission ranked Leipzig as the fourth most liveable city in Europe in 2023, reinforcing its impact as an attractive destination. There will be plenty to do in Leipzig in 2024: traditional trade fairs, art festivals, sporting events and concerts with a wide range of music will encourage people to visit Leipzig. The following overview shows a selection of the most important tourist events in 2024. Starting this year, all permanent exhibitions in the city's museums will be free of charge. So when coming to Leipzig for an inspiring event, guests should plan to stay longer to experience the diversity of the museums. Visitors can use the free app "Explore Leipzig" for individual digital city tours and purchase the Leipzig Card for special offers and unlimited travel on public transport. Please check the organiser's website before travelling to find out the latest information of the relevant events.

Great Concerts of the Gewandhausorchester (all year round)

The Gewandhausorchester is the oldest civic symphony orchestra in the world. Founded in 1743 by a group of 16 musical philanthropists the ensemble took residence in its first concert hall in a textile merchant's house – hence the name Gewandhausorchester. Today about 800 concerts of various kinds take place in the Gewandhaus Concert Hall every year. Highlights include the weekly Great Concerts (Grosse Konzerte) and the Shostakovich Festival in May 2025. Info: <https://www.gewandhausorchester.de/en>

Motets and Cantatas by the Thomanerchor (all year round)

Founded in 1212, the Thomanerchor is one of the four oldest boys' choirs in Germany. Its most famous cantor was Johann Sebastian Bach, who was responsible for the church music of Leipzig and the St Thomas Boys' Choir until his death in 1750. The choir performs regularly at St Thomas Church – Bach's final resting place – on Fridays at 6pm and Saturdays at 3pm, except during holidays and concert tours. A special highlight will be the 300th anniversary of St John Passion in March 2024. Info: <https://thomanerchor.de/>

Events Marking the 300th Anniversary of Bach's Arrival in Leipzig (until June 2024)

Leipzig is celebrating the 300th anniversary of Bach's appointment as Thomaskantor. A collaboration between the Thomanerchor, the Gewandhausorchester, St Thomas Church, St Nicholas Church and the Leipzig Bach Archive. Info: <https://www.bach300.de/en/homepage/>

Auerbachs Keller Triennium (all year round)

When Dr Heinrich Stomer von Auerbach first served wine to students in the cellar of his house in 1525, it marked the birth of one of Germany's most traditional taverns. Auerbachs Keller is celebrating its founding with a three-year anniversary, with events taking place throughout the year. The culmination of the three-year celebration will be Easter 2025, the actual 500th anniversary of Auerbachs Keller. Info:
